While the attacked might have been system using a hard to guess (HIGHLY unclear) RNG why would it use a deterministic algorithm like AES in CTR mode? If the attackers was attacking a time critical system like the banking system he wouldnt. A RNG cannot be forced into synchronisation with an EM source. To say it uses a weak RNG is just incorrect, it uses a deterministic algorithm (irreducible non reversible (or computationally intractable) function) there is a universe of such functions and thats why we use them for cryptographic use. 5ec8ef588b
